SAVORING AND THE CITY

San Francisco and the wine country are now closer than ever thanks to the Press Club. This urban tasting room hosts eight of California's best, small-scale vineyards, such as Chateau Montelena, Fritz Winery, Hanna Winery and Landmark Vineyards. Employees from each winery are on hand to serve their own labels and talk about the quality and history of their creations.

In addition to remarkable wine, it's in a remarkable location. Press Club is located on Yerba Buena Lane, at the foot of the Four Seasons Hotel & Residences, and is being developed in partnership with Millennium Partners. Make it a full day of culture and stop by the new 63,000-square-foot Daniel Libeskind-designed Contemporary Jewish Museum, which is the Press Club's neighbor.
